

Rebecca H. Mitich
Partner

Rebecca is a partner in Husch Blackwell's Real Estate, Development and Construction group, one of the largest real estate law practices in the country. She represents lenders, developers, and community development entities in complex real estate development projects utilizing New Markets Tax Credits, Historic tax Credits, TIF, and PACE financing. She currently advises clients on Opportunity Zone fund formation, and consults with municipalities on strategies for attracting Opportunity Zone capital to their communities. Rebecca speaks on Opportunity Zones to state-wide and national audiences, and has been quoted on the topic by Bloomberg Tax, BizTimes, and other industry publications.

Rebecca is Co-Lead of Husch Blackwell's Opportunity Zones team. The multidisciplinary team is comprised of more than 25 attorneys from across the country, with expertise in fund formation, securities, tax, private equity and emerging companies, community development finance, and real estate.